

La Vie Collegienne

VOL. I

ANNVILLE, PA., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1925

NO. 1

Lebanon Valley Humbles Albright, 41-0

Clio Celebrates 55th Anniversary

"CLASSIC LORE IN OTHER DAYS" PROVES HIT WITH LARGE AUDIENCE

Celebrating her Fifty-fifth anniversary, the Clonian Literary Society turned back the pages of history in a most successful Folk-Lore program given on Friday, November the twentieth in Engle Hall. In ballad epic and pastoral, in song and in dance, the early history of various peoples and countries presented itself in a pleasing panorama which included scenes from the English, Scottish, Dutch, French, Gypsy, Spanish, Indian, Negro, and American Colonial Life. The stage was attractively set as an outdoor scene which lent itself admirably to the various representations. The whole program was given under the personal supervision of Miss Bilbo of the English department.

The choruses were directed by Miss Ruth Engle, director of the Conservatory; much credit also is due to Professor H. H. Shenk for valuable suggestions in folk-lore material. Miss Grace Daniel '29, and Miss Violet Krone '29, presided at the piano. The program was as follows:

Classic Lore in Other Days.

Selection Orchestra
Invocation Mary E. Hair '26
Prologue Dorcas E. Bortz
Written by Marion Corle.

Part One English Folk Lore
Continuity Written by Marion Hess.
A Scene From Robin Hood

Robin Hood Sara Weider
His Band: Permelia Rose
Josephine V. Matulitus
M. Nelda Spatz
Mabel G. Hafer

Blanche R. Stager
Gladys M. Buffington
Olga S. Freeman
Mary G. Kreider
Emma R. Meyer
Eleanor R. Snoke
Bernice A. Hoover
Mabel C. Brewbaker
(b) A Pastoral Lore Scene
Shepherdess.....Josephine V. Matulitus
Shepherdess Josephine V. Matulitus

(c) Scotch Ballads
Selection Marion D. Hess
Orchestra

Part Two Continental Folk Lore
(a) Dutch Clog Dance
Marion Corle

A. Esther Shenk
(b) Meeting of the French TroubadoursM. Esther Raudenbush
Madeline A. Mark
Nellie G. Rabenstine
Blanche R. Stager

(c) A Scene from Gypsy Land
Alice J. Kindt
Esther M. Walmer

(d) Spanish Lore
Benetta E. Burrier
Selection Orchestra

Part Three American Folk Lore
(Continued on Page 4)

Walter Chapman Gave Recital At Leb. Valley College

Walter Chapman, a piano soloist of New York City, who has appeared with many symphony orchestras, gave a splendid recital on Tuesday evening in Engle Hall, Lebanon Valley College, Annaville. A large and unquestionably interested audience showed appreciation of Mr. Chapman's pianistic art. He is an artist equipped to do justice to the best requirements of modern piano playing. There was neither affection nor sham in his manner and as he played he held his audience spell bound.

Mr. Chapman opened his program with a delightful Pastoral, giving a picture of the Angelus as interpreted by the Old Italian School and rearranged by Godowsky. He was at his best in the Waldstein Sonata where he revealed the vigor, depth, delicacy and brilliance demanded of the Sonata. His playing was frequently brilliant and powerful, it was not brilliant for the sake of brilliancy but as an interpretative means. His lovely singing tone, clear and always well modulated, found expression in the short slow movement.

Dr. G. D. Gossard Speaks At Elizabethtown College

PRESIDENT IS FILLING MANY CHURCH PULPITS

Dr. G. D. Gossard gave an address on Education at the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of the founding of Elizabethtown College, Elizabethtown, Pennsylvania, Saturday, November 14.

Dr. G. D. Gossard arranged as part of the program for Educational Week, delivered an address on Education to the pupils of the Hershey High School, Wednesday, November 18.

The President also filled the pulpits of the Hopeland United Brethren Church and the Sunbury First United Brethren Church on the Sundays November 15 and November 22 respectively. He will visit in Baltimore, Maryland, during the Thanksgiving Vacation, and at which time he will speak in several of the United Brethren Churches located there.

L. V. Prepares For Final Game

WILL BE PLAYED WITH SUSQUEHANNA AT SELINGROVE ON TURKEY DAY.

According to the dope L. V. C. has the edge on Susquehanna. We have lost but one of the contests staged with the Selingsgrove eleven in the

(Continued on Page 4)

Lebanon Valley Again Honored

MRS. MARY GREEN ELECTED TO POSITION OF RESPONSIBILITY

Another honor has been given to Lebanon Valley College and has placed it on the map. During the Fifth Annual Meeting of the Deans of Women of Pennsylvania Colleges held in the Penn Harris Hotel, Harrisburg, Mrs. Mary Green, Dean of Women, was elected Secretary of the Association. Florence M. Kunkel of Edinboro, and Elizabeth Lewis of Nesquehoning, were elected to the offices of President and Treasurer respectively.

Governor Pinchot and Dr. Francis Haas, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, were among the speakers who addressed the Conference this year.

L. V. Delegates Attend Annual Student Conference

Representatives Guests At Wellesley Report Pleasurable And Profitable Meeting

Permelia Rose and Myra Schaefer, delegates from Lebanon Valley to the annual Women's Intercollegiate Student Government Association conference at Wellesley College Nov. 12 to Nov. 14, have brought back to our campus some wonderful ideas concerning student life, government, and associations. Girls from many colleges east of the Mississippi as far south as Florida and north to Maine, as well as two girls west of the Mississippi, from California, were represented there.

The main discussion throughout the various meetings was on the effectiveness and means of improving student government. Many able and noted speakers deeply impressed the girls. Miss Pendleton, President of Wellesley emphasized the fact that we, in our college communities, shouldn't be afraid to be different than non-collegiate towns. Dr. Dallas in discussing the great dissatisfaction of people of today said with much truth, "There should be dissatisfaction but it should be for real things." The honor system was also discussed from all points of view.

The last sessions were devoted to problems off of the campus. The girls were here given a broader outlook on the World Court than ever before by such speaker as Dr. Rupp. The aim of this conference is really to do away with petty problems and to make the conference national and then international in time to discuss national and international problems. Hereafter, in order to accommodate delegates from more colleges there shall be only one delegate from each school belonging to the association.

(Continued on Page 4)

Big Audience Charmed By Edmund Burke

MISS ENGLE PROVED HERSELF AN ACCOMPLISHED ACCOMPANIST

As usual Burke scored a decided success at the Academy last night. The audience was fairly large, attentive and appreciative. From the moment Burke stepped on the stage to the time he went off he had his audience with him. He has a most engaging personality and is one of the few singers who seem to be "at home" on the stage from the very first.

His program was very interesting. His group "Songs of Travel" were probably received the best. His "negro spiritual" encore seemed to please the audience, though from a purely technical standpoint Beethoven's "Creation Hymn" showed the powers of his voice to greatest advantage. He indeed has an exceptional voice. Rich, vibrant, resonant, combined with his flawless control and ease of singing, mark him as one of the most finished artists on the concert stage today. His diction and enunciation are exceptional. Every word could be heard distinctly. In all his numbers he displayed true musicianship and wonderful interpretative powers. His first number and "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" were rather disappointing, the last one particularly. As another party remarked, "They were a little ragged." But Burke in all his numbers proved he has a voice of exceptional quality, controls it perfectly, sings with marvelous ease, and is a master of interpretation. And did you notice his exceptional range. His foreign numbers were sung well and phrased very well. In those songs he proved his complete mastery of his voice.

We hope he comes back again, and judging from the applause every one who attended the concert wishes the same. Miss Engle proved herself an unusual accompanist. She knew what to do—and did it. An accompanist has nearly as much to do with a singer's success as the singer himself and Miss Engle's accompanying stamped her as a real artist. A marvelous singer, an excellent accompanist, an appreciative audience—what more do you need to make a concert a success? Nothing—and that sums up the performance last night.—Daily News.

NEW DEPARTMENTS ADDED TO COLLEGE COURSE

Beginning with this year two new departments have been started. One a course in Business Administration leading to the degree of Bachelor of Science in Economics, and a course in Public School Music. There is a demand for both of these in our constituency.

Lebanon Valley Rides Roughshod Over Albright

Blue and White Warriors Gain Great Victory in Annual Game With Old Rivals

Gelbert, Singley, and Piersol Outstanding Stars

The Blue and White warriors rode roughshod over this rivals from Albright, in their annual game, on Bethlehem field, Lebanon. From the very start, Lebanon Valley showed her superiority over her rival. Although outweighed, Lebanon Valley was not to be stopped. When they failed to advance through the line, their reverted to the aerial game. So good was their forward passing attack, that out of about twenty attempts, all were completed for gains with but two exceptions, three of these passes going for touchdowns.

In addition to this sterling offensive, Lebanon Valley played an equally good defensive game, twice intercepting Albright passes and converting them into Lebanon Valley touchdowns. Singley intercepted one and ran forty-five yards for a touchdown, and Wheeler intercepted the other and then raced the remaining twenty-five yards for another touchdown.

The Blue and White goal line was never in danger. Only on two occasions did Albright have the pigskin within the Blue and White thirty yard line. On both these occasions, the Lebanon Valley line held like a stone wall and Albright was forced to give up the ball on downs.

The Blue and White warriors were in excellent shape for the fray and they showed very clearly that they were superior to the Albright eleven in every way. It is indeed difficult to single out any particular star for every Blue and White player covered himself with glory during the hour's struggle. However, Gelbert and Singley showed exceptional skill with the forward pass. Each alternated in passing and receiving the ball. Piersol's educated toe, too, requires some mention. In addition to accounting for all the extra points after touchdowns, he booted two beautiful goals from placement and narrowly missed a third, the ball falling short of the cross-bar by inches.

The line-up:

Albright	Lebanon Valley
Brown.....	Left End.....Heilman
Howell.....	Left Tackle.....Piersol
Loucks.....	Left Guard.....Wood
Smith.....	Center.....Wheeler
Snyder.....	Right Guard.....Elberti
Frock.....	Right Tackle.....Fox
Clemens.....	Right End.....Piersol
Garrett.....	Quarterback.....Nitrauer
Angle.....	Left Halfback.....Singley
Gazull.....	Right Halfback.....Gilbert
Griggs.....	Fullback.....Smuck

Substitutions—Wheeler for Clemens, Gramley for Snyder, Hartzell for Loucks, Gingrich for Wood, Reigle for Nitrauer, Starr for Smuck, Metoxin for Pierce, Zearfoss for Elberti, Wil-

Continued On Page 4.

La Vie Collegienne

Published Bi-Weekly By The
Students Of Lebanon Valley
College

Editor-in-chief..... William Grill '26
Associate Editors..... Marion Hess '26
Elizabeth Stauffer '26

Reporters
Conservatory..... Ruth Miller '27
Athletic..... J. Allen Richards '26
Clio..... Emma Madciff '27
Delphian..... Florence Dundore '27
Kalo..... Maynard Sparks '27
Philo..... Le Roy Fegley '27
General..... Madeline Mark '27

Walter Ness '27
Business Manager.....
Henry M. Gingrich '26
Associate Business Managers.....
Clarence Ulrich '27
Darkes Albright '23

Faculty Advisors
Queenie M. Bilbo..... Harold Bennett
Robert R. Butterwick
Terms—$1.00 per year. Single copies
5 cents. Address all matters of general concern to the Editor-in-chief.
Address all business communications to the Business Manager.

A BIGGER AND BETTER
LEBANON VALLEY

OUR NEWSPAPER AND ITS POLICY

This issue of La Vie Collegienne marks the initial appearance of Lebanon Valley's college paper in newspaper form. After many years of agitation we have at last our own individual college newspaper. Our aim in this news sheet is a three fold one—to portray the activities of the student body; to be the voice of the college; and to keep the alumni in touch with one another and with their Alma Mater. La Vie Collegienne will appear bi-weekly for the present, but as soon as finances and subject matter will allow it will appear weekly. To be able to accomplish this goal, a weekly sheet, we must have the hearty and unanimous support of students, faculty, and alumni. Our students and faculty are co-operating heartily, for the student subscription to La Vie Collegienne has been one hundred per cent, and the faculty advice and help has been of equal caliber. It is especially to the alumni that we now appeal. Will you give ear to our cause and aid us by subscribing for La Vie Collegienne? Every red-blooded alumnus should be willing to help boost his Alma Mater to greater heights. Alumni, we need you and you need us; let's all fall in line and help make our enterprise a success.

A VOTE OF THANKS

We, the editorial staff of La Vie Collegienne, feel that it is fitting that the first issue of the paper should contain an expression of the appreciation felt by the student body for the generosity of the friends of the college, particularly the Rockefeller General Education Board in providing an endowment fund which, after all pledges are paid, will approach the million dollar mark. For three years the General Education Board contributed eight thousand dollars annually for professors' salaries, and in 1924 made a gift of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars conditional upon the raising of twice that amount by the college. The two Annual Conferences of the United Brethren Church came to the rescue and wiped out the long standing debt amounting to nearly one hundred thousand dollars; and the rank and file of our churches and constituency responded nobly to the call by subscribing more than twice the amount of the Rockefeller gift. This means that the future of Lebanon Valley College is assured, and Lebanon Valley's banner will always be found in the front rank of Pennsylvania colleges.

Kalo Features Joint Sessions

Splendid Programs Show Spirit Of Society

The meetings of Kalo Literary Society for the past eight weeks have been of exceptionally high character as evidenced not only by the keen interest aroused in the members themselves but also by the testimony of all our guests at the Clio-Kalo and Delphian-Kalo Joint-Sessions, each in itself a decided success.

The first joint program was held with the Clio girls. This session was particularly featured with a large crowd and the manner in which both faculty and students received this program testified to their enjoyment of the same. The novel idea of "Pumpkin Pie"—consisting of crust, filling, and spice—filled every minute with the spirit of Hallowe'en. Then, aside from the sketch which added a deeper impression to the real meaning of the season, Mr. Kennedy's selections on the "Sax" and Mr. Albright's appropriate reading were greatly enjoyed.

But, it was with no less success that the Delphian girls joined the Kalo boys in "putting over" a very unique program on the night of October 23d. Among the pleasing numbers of the program, special mention must be extended to Hank (Bezdek) and his Irish comedians who presented some royal Thanksgiving entertainment. Also Miss Gingrich of Palmyra impressed the audience with her cello selections.

With these enjoyable sessions beaming in our eyes, the outlook for the future is quite encouraging as the spirit of fraternal co-operation and good-will is growing stronger among the Kalo boys than ever in past years.

Spare Mid-Night Oil, Professor Warns F. & M. Men

In an effort to help students, particularly freshmen to learn how to study an open forum discussion was held Thursday evening under the auspices of the Franklin and Marshall College Y. M. C. A. How to make study profitable and interesting was the topic and was led by Dr. P. M. Harbold, professor of the department of education.

The students were allowed to ask questions of any kind concerning problems that had arisen in connection with their classes. From the queries it was apparent that mathematics, biology and chemistry are giving freshmen most trouble.

How to memorize was another problem which seemed to worry many of the men and a number of helps were suggested by Dr. Harbold. The students were advised to prepare a schedule of study hours and to adhere to it strictly, permitting nothing to interfere. It was suggested that this be done even though it be necessary to decline invitations to shows or informal meetings in one another's rooms.

Those present were warned not to study too long at one time but to break up their study periods as much as possible. They were advised not to burn mid-night oil as eight or nine hours sleep is essential to first year students if they are to do good work. —Lancaster Era.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

"Coming events cast their shadows before."

Wed. Nov. 1:00 P. M.—Thanksgiving Vacation begins.

Thurs. Nov. 26, 2:30 P. M.—Football. Lebanon Valley vs Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove.

Mon. Nov. 30, 1:00 P. M.—Thanksgiving Vacation ends.

Mon. Nov. 30, 6:30 P. M.—Meeting of the Writer's Club.

Tues. Dec. 1, 6:10 P. M.—College Prayer meeting.

Tues. Dec. 1, 7:00 P. M.—Meeting of the Historical Society.

Wed. Dec. 2, 6:30 P. M.—Meeting of "The up to the Minute Reader's Club."

Thurs. Dec. 3, 7:00 P. M.—Meeting of the Mathematical Round Table.

Thurs. Dec. 3, 10:00 P. M.—Y. M. C. A. Devotional Meeting.

Fri. Dec. 4, 3:00 P. M.—Annual Frosh-Soph Football Game.

Fri. Dec. 4, 7:00 P. M.—Meeting of the Literary Societies.

Sun. Dec. 6, 5:45 P. M.—Y. W. C. A. Meeting.

IN ELUCIDATION

Not that we underestimate your powers of comprehension, dear fellow-students! But lest our conception of the significance of "La Vie Collegienne" should vary we wish to clear up any doubts at this early date. "La Vie Collegienne" is a French phrase signifying "College Life." It was chosen for a two fold reason: first, because as a college newspaper we expect to chronicle the college life of Lebanon Valley students in all news phases, and secondly because the first letters of La Vie Collegienne represent also, the initials of our Alma Mater, L. V. C.

Debaters Getting Started.

Although eight weeks of the college year are in the historical files, yet little advance has been made in connection with Lebanon Valley's Debating team. Several weeks ago an urgent appeal was made before the student body in the interest of this college "sport," but to this date only four men have signified their willingness to become candidates for the forensic floor. The number of responses and the margin of interest shown is even less than that of last year. Requests from other colleges for arrangement of schedules are coming in every day but the management is handicapped due to the fact that no debating team—to speak frankly—is yet assured. However, as a school, we do not believe that such a spirit can exist in L. V. C., for the debates in each of the campus societies this year have attained a far higher level than ever before. Consequently, we must maintain our Debating standards and in order to make proof of our spirit of loyalty let us bring a hearty response to Professor Gingrich's second appeal for candidates which will be broadcasted in the near future.

For the interest of new students it might be advisable to note that the Varsity men from last year who will be with us again are Messrs. Willard, Gingrich, Wise and Zuse. These four men, together with the new men who qualify, will constitute our 1926 squad.

The opportunity is yours; the benefits are yours; the finances for maintaining the teams are ample; and the trips under consideration are quite desirable including the Western trip—University of Pittsburgh, Washington and Jefferson, and Waynesburg—as well as Muhlenburg, Elizabethtown College, and others.

ALUMNI NOTES

Matilda Bowman '25, was married to Richard D. Ruth sometime during June. They are living at present in Mt. Gretna.

David Fink '17, of Annville, and Rachael Hindel '24 of Red Lion, were married October 22, at Red Lion.

Former Lebanon Valleyians are teaching at the following places:

E. Harry Adams '25, Wesley College, Dover, Del.

Harold Batdorf '25, Swarthmore, Penna.

William Behney '25, Saint Bernard's School, Gladstone, N. J.

Sarah Dearwechter '25, Grades—North of Lebanon, Penna.

Ray Deck '25, Palmyra, Penna.

Lola Desenberg '25, Unionville, Penna.

Elwood Stabley '24, Unionville, Penna.

Ethel Donough '25, South Wilmington, Del.

Jerome Frock '25, Keystone Academy, Factoryville, Penna.

Edith Geyer '25, Sacramento, Penna.

Yvonne Green '25, Vineland, N. J.

Ruth Hoy '25, Tremont, Penna.

Martha Schack '25, Tremont, Penna.

Harry Kiehl '25, Central Y. M. C. A., Baltimore, Md.

Dorothy Longenecker '25, Cape May, N. J.

Martha Zigler '24, Pitman, N. J.

Isabelle Smith '25, Pitman, N. J.

Mae Reeves '23, Pitman, N. J.

Helen Hughes '23, Pitman, N. J.

Lloyd Light '25, Smyrna, Del.

Kathryn Nisley '25, Elizabethtown, Penna.

Dr. J. A. Lyter '85, pastor of our college church, has accepted the position of Associate Editor of Sunday School Literature, Dayton, Ohio. He succeeds the late William O. Fries.

Rev. and Mrs. R. S. Heberlig, '19, announce the birth of a son, Wednesday, November 11.

William O. Fries '82, died October 15. Mr. Fries was Editor of United Brethren Sunday School Literature for the past twenty years.

Jerome Frock '25, in a letter to the office says, "I am located at Keystone Academy, Factoryville, Penna. I like the work very much, although the town is dead. Annville is ten times as large and as lively as Factoryville, so you can form your own conclusions."

Any alumni news will be much welcomed by Marion Hess, Alumni Editor of La Vie Collegienne, Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Penna.

MATH. ROUND TABLE AT REDDITT HOME

The Mathematical Round Table was delightfully entertained by Professor and Mrs. Bruce H. Redditt, Thursday evening, November 12.

Following a short but snappy Mathematical program the remainder of the evening was spent in a social get-together. Various plans were proposed whereby the club might broaden its scope and thus appeal to more of the students.

The special feature of the social part of the evening was Professor Redditt's performance with the violin. He is indeed an accomplished artist. We few who had the privilege of hearing him play were completely captivated by his humorous as well as classical numbers.

to duty for the crew of the wreck train. They are given five minutes in which to rouse from their slumbers, dress, bid farewell to their families, go forth into the night, and arrive at their post.

All this leads us to one of our favorite expressions, "Truly, one half of the world knows not how the other half lives." The pity is not so much that we know not, but that we care so little.

This And That

"In five or ten years or sooner, alas! the dead will be forgotten." This was written by Walter Page, shortly after the casualty lists became daily news upon our entry into the World War in 1917.

And is it not the truth? On November 11 we celebrated the Seventh Anniversary of the Signing of the Armistice. Yet those who gave their lives, so that Democracy might live,—for that was the reason, if not the result, of America's entry into the war,—were thought of, we are afraid, all too little by Americans in general. Are we too busy, or is it no longer worth while, to give a little thought to those things which are responsible for that something we call Patriotism? It was planned, and that only seven years ago, to make Armistice Day a national holiday second to none. And yet there were many who wondered, "Why all the flags to-day," for that was the extent of our honor to our soldier boys, both living and dead.

* * * *

It is to be noted with pride that Lebanon Valley College is up with the leaders in local improvements. The laying of concrete curbs and gutters is about finished, and with its property facing on three thoroughfares, the task of the college was greater than that of any other in Annville. We should be especially proud because this has been done now, when the good effects of being with the leaders in civic improvements are obvious. At a future date these would have dwindled to an ordinary matter of course.

* * * *

Our pipe organ has recently been repaired, tuned, and placed again in its familiar position. Do we realize what an important place this has in the lives of our fellow students? To appreciate this better, all that we need to do is to look at a little schedule card placed inside the door of the reception hall in the Conservatory. When we do this, we see it so filled with practice periods, that we wonder how soon and where, will we place the next organ.

* * * *

As this was being written, the sound of a wreck whistle came through the night. Expectantly we waited for five minutes when we knew the whistle would be repeated. It was.

It was late on a stormy Sunday evening, which reminded one of nothing so much as of Longfellow's, "The Rainy Day." The rain was falling in sheets. The wind was driving not only the rain, but dead leaves and small branches before it. It insisted upon rattling the shutters and creaky windows. The result was we were probably more satisfied than thankful that our lot placed us beside a cozy fire, sheltered from the unpleasant outdoors.

But what of the wreck whistle? It is on a par with a fire bell in the night. It may mean a crashing of steel and wood, with its attendant horrors of steam and fire. It may mean untold pain and suffering among the victims, with the cruelty of uncertainty among their loved ones. Or it may only mean that a boxcar in a long train has become derailed.

Whatever the seriousness of the wreck, the whistle is a call

English Department Greatly Strengthened

FOUR PROFESSORS ADDED

Rev. G. A. Richie, a successful pastor in the East Pennsylvania Conference, has been elected to take the place of Dr. Spangler. He comes with splendid training in the schools and in the pastoral work. He graduated from Lebanon Valley College in 1913 and from Bonebrake Theological Seminary in 1916 and lacks only five hours of completing the course in the University of Pennsylvania for the Doctor of Philosophy degree. He gave up a successful pastorate in Philadelphia Second Church to accept the professorship in Lebanon Valley College.

The English Department which had been filled by one full time and two part time professors, will be in charge of Dr. P. A. W. Wallace and Miss Queenie M. Bilbo, both of whom will give all their time to this department. Dr. Wallace graduated from Toronto University with the Bachelor's degree and later with the degree of Doctor of Philosophy. He is the author of eight or ten books and has had six years' experience as a university teacher. He spent some time in the great war and later spent a year and a half in travel and study in European countries. We are most fortunate in securing him. Miss Bilbo graduated from Ohio Wesleyan University with the Bachelor's degree at the head of her class numbering two hundred students. A year later she received the Master's degree in Columbia University. Two summers were spent in Columbia, one in California University and one in Oxford University, Oxford, England. She spent several months in traveling through the British Isles and then went on a cruise visiting countries bordering on the Mediterranean Sea and spent considerable time in Egypt and Palestine. She has had several years' experience as a college teacher.

Professor George Rogers is the new head of the Voice Department in the Conservatory. In addition to his studies in America he took special work along music lines in France, Switzerland and Italy. He comes with a full experience as a teacher of Voice in college and private studio. He taught eight years in Brenau College and is highly recommended. He is entering upon his work with a splendid and intelligent enthusiasm. Both the college and music departments have able faculties and we most heartily recommend them to the kind consideration, not only of our United Brethren people but all others who seek to send their sons and daughters to standard and accredited schools.

Ministerial Group Hears Missionary

On Thursday evening November 12, the Ministerial group enjoyed one of the most interesting and inspiring addresses delivered by Dr. H. W. Wideo, a returned missionary of the Philippines. For twenty-two years this man of God has supervised our mission work in that field, and he spoke out of intimacy of knowledge concerning the great needs that made a lasting impression upon those present. His subject was taken from words of the Master as he met Simon and Andrew by the Sea of Galilee and said "Come ye after Me and I will make you fishers of men." He related several incidents when he was permitted to lead the natives to the Lord and emphasized the importance of soul saving in the work of the ministry. The meeting adjourned with a prayer by our College President, Dr. G. D. Gossard.

Cross-Word Puzzles Popular

ONE PROVES ENTERTAINING AS FEATURE OF DELPHIAN SOCIETY

A cross-word puzzle program proved an entertaining feature of the Delphian Literary Society at the regular session on Friday evening, November 13, in Delphian Hall. In spite of having planned for a joint session which had to be postponed because of unforeseen events the substitute program proved successful. Many of the numbers were real puzzles and each one furnished a grand surprise to every Delphian present.

A Natural Tale Isabel Horst
The Lost Art Deborah Orth
The Siamese Twins Mary Overby
The Actors Mildred Lane
Tongue Twisters Viola Wolfe

3 in 1 Helen Longenecker

This interesting program was the first one to be enjoyed by the old and new Delphians together. We are glad for the active interest taken in the society by our many new girls and we hope that each one already feels as one of us. With this good intellectual material as well as our cozy home improved by the purchase of a new Hazelton Bros. Grand piano, we are looking forward to a big year. By many delightful social and literary hours and by pleasant associations and true friendships formed in Delphian this year, we hope to make truer, bigger, and better women for L. V. C.

Philo Argues The Question Of Examinations

The Philokosmian Literary Society met in regular session Friday night, November 14 with the President, Raymond Tyson in the chair. Devotions were conducted by the chaplain, J. Bruce Behney. The first number on the program was entitled "Lake George" by Luke Mimura. After giving a very unique description of that beautiful summer resort located among the Catskill Mountains, he concluded his number by relating several moon-light adventures he enjoyed with the fairer sex of that country. Byron Sheetz read several interesting selections, the most momentous of which were "Study of Women," "He and She," and "Casey at the Bat." The subject of the evening debate was—"Resolved That Examinations Should Be Abolished." Milford Knisely and Millard Miller upheld the affirmative side while Arnold Zwally and Clarence Ulrich supported the negative. Both sides presented powerful arguments and thus kept the judges and members of the society always on the alert. The final decision was in favor of the negative side. The Literary Session closed with the Critic's report by Henry Wilt.

P stands for Philo, our society so old;
H shows the Honor which we uphold;
I shows the Ideals we have in mind;
L shows our Love for all mankind;
O stands for Others within these halls;
K stands for our Kindness to one and all;
O is to us, our power to Observe;
S is for the Society we love to serve;
M is for Meetings we hold each week;
I is for Ideals for which we seek;
A shows our Ambition for greater things;
N stands for the Novelty which Philo brings.

"Peck"—Sit near me, damsel, I need inspiration.
Bee Be.—Nothin' doin'. So do I."

Clio Literary Society Draws Many Members

The freshman girls on the campus soon learned that when a certain three of the twenty-six letters of the alphabet were put together in the proper order they stood for—well, for all that is best in a girl's life. These letters are C. L. S., arranged in the order named. More concretely they learned what these letters meant through an opening program which portrayed the four-phase life as emphasized by the society. The hike, a piratical expedition, gave them further knowledge as to the meaning of C. L. S. Proof that their attention was attracted by these and other manifestations of the spirit of Clio was given in the response which they made to her invitation to become a part of this fellowship. Those girls who pledged their allegiance to Minerva were:

Hazel Bailey
Fredricka Baker
Mary Bender
Elizabeth Black
Kathryn Bork
Carol Brinser
Jane Fearnow
Violet Krone
Bernice Hoover
Anna Mark
Nancy Ulrich
Mae Burkholder
Ruth Light
Mabel Greene

Miriam Hershey
Florence Miller
Grace Daniel
Ruth Essick
Emma Shaffer
Leah Harpel
Miriam Muth
Grace Troutman
Marion Hoffman
Ruth Reigle
Mary Buch
Mary Clymer
Irene Miller
Elizabeth Stearns

WILL PLAY WITH Y. M. H. A.

"Ike" Baron, former guard on the Lebanon Valley basketball team, has signed to play with the Lebanon Y. M. H. A. basketball squad in the Central Y. M. H. A. basketball league this season.

Baron is a speedy player, and will be a great asset to the quintet representing the Lebanon Association.

Great Increase Of New Students Over Number Graduated

LEBANON VALLEY CROWDED

The enrollment of students last year was very gratifying. The total number in the College Department was three hundred and six. In the Conservatory, one hundred and four, in the Summer School ninety-one and in the Extension Department, one hundred and thirty-eight. The total number was six hundred and ninety-three. Deducting names repeated in music, summer school and extension courses, the net enrollment was five hundred and sixty-eight. Seventy graduated in the class of 1925. This was the largest class ever turned out by Lebanon Valley College. The enrollment this year will exceed these figures in every department. The day following Commencement there were ten more applicants for accommodations in the Men's Dormitory than could be cared for. We advertised that we could not admit more than one hundred freshmen and therefore did not canvass except to secure day students. We could not keep within the limit set, the freshman class will number about one hundred and fifteen and the total in the College Department will reach three hundred and twenty-five. In the Conservatory of Music possibly one hundred and twenty. The Summer School enrolled one hundred. The Extension Department will likely reach one hundred and seventy-five. This will make a total enrollment of seven hundred and twenty-five. After deducting names counted twice the net enrollment will run from six hundred to six hundred and fifty.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY ORGANIZED

Under Direction Of Professor H. H. Shenk A Permanent Organization Was Effectuated

On October 27, a group of students were called to order by Professor H. H. Shenk. That was the beginning of the Historical Society of Lebanon Valley College. Election of officers followed, with these results: President, Walter R. Krause; Vice-President, Henry Williard; Secretary and Treasurer, Esther Shenk; Librarian, Henry T. Ishimura.

The purpose of the society is to discuss such events as are historical in their nature and yet not fully covered by the courses in History; to collect and foster an interest in papers, documents, pamphlets, and books of an original historical significance; and to compile and publish a paper dealing with some one event or personage which has heretofore been overlooked in the field of History.

At their meeting of November 17, Henry T. Ishimura gave a most pleasing and profitable discussion on "Japan, its History and Customs." He spoke at length upon the history of Japan from its beginning in the fifth century, through the tribal war period, the coming of Commodore Perry, and the unparalleled development since. Speaking of customs, he stated that American customs were just as strange to the Japanese as their's are to us.

WRITER'S CLUB FORMED

Another club newly organized this year is the Writer's Club. Its purpose is to help each member to improve his or her writings, and to endeavor to have their works published.

At the first meeting of the club the following officers were elected: President, Darks Albright; Vice-President, Marion Corle; Secretary, Madeline Mark. One of the most interesting meetings was that one held November 21, when Miss Bilbo gave a short talk on the Short-Story and illustrated her remarks by reading two intensely interesting short stories. The short story program was given in preparation for a short story contest which will be sponsored by the club. Another interesting plan for the club members was brought to light in the last meeting when Professor Shenk explained that the traditions and legends which he has gathered concerning historical Pennsylvania are to be written and published in a book. He invited the co-operation of aspiring writers in the club in preparing the material for publication.

The club affords a fine opportunity for progress and many students have taken advantage of the possibilities of membership.

Y. W. C. A. ACTIVE

Campus And World Problems To Be Discussed

Have you joined the Y. Girls? The membership campaign is now under way. We are aiming at 100 per cent membership. You can help us reach our goal by joining.

The Y. W. C. A. as an organization on this campus, aims to cultivate the religious phase of every girl's nature, and to widen her conception of life. The Sunday evening service is planned with the first part of this aim in view. The gradual change of woman's position in the economic, political and social world, makes the second part of this aim essential. A knowledge of world problems is necessary to every woman who expects to take her place in life, on the same plane as men. The Y. W. has planned a year's program so as to aid every girl who has any such desire, to think clearly both on campus problems, and world problems. The discussion group—which is being so widely advocated—has been chosen as the medium between problems and student thought. Etiquette, the Honor System, Peace and War, Bible Study, World Problems, and Relationships between Men and Women are problems which are going to be considered.

Remember—there are matters beyond the campus worthy of consideration; in a few years our opinions and actions will stamp us. The World Court is going to be discussed in Congress, December 17. Let's read more about it.

Reader's Meet At Home Of Dr. Wallace

Under the capable direction of Dr. Wallace of the English Department of the school, and Miss Queenie Bilbo, another new member of the department, an "Up To The Minute Reader's Club" has been Organized recently. The purpose of the club is to offer an opportunity to all members of the student body who are interested in reading to gather together to read and discuss modern works.

At the first meeting of the club the following officers were elected: President, Josephine Matulitus; Vice-President, Elmer Kaiser; Treasurer, Henry M. Gingrich; Secretary, Elsie Reider. Dr. and Mrs. Wallace, Miss Bilbo and Miss Meyers have been elected honorary members of the club.

The meetings, which are very informal, have been held in the home of Dr. Wallace. The programs have consisted of an "O. Henry Night," and a "Night of Short Stories." At the next meeting Vachael Lindsay's Poems will be read.

Y. M. C. A. Conducts Membership Drive

The College Y. M. C. A. at the present time is conducting a membership drive in order that it will continue to exist as one of the big organizations on the campus. All college men share the benefits of the Y. M. C. A. and therefore should not hesitate to join when approached by members of the Cabinet. Remember that the future "Y" at Lebanon Valley depends upon the membership it has this year. Let us give the "Y" our hearty support.

The activity of the "Y" this year included a Fox Chase in the early part of the term and later a joint session with the Y. W. C. A. The services of several prominent men have been secured to give addresses to the student body at different times throughout the year. Several worth while magazines will be placed in the "Y" room which the students will have an opportunity to read.

Alumni!

Pin a Dollar Bill to this and Return. It will entitle you to this year's subscription for LA VIE COLLEGIENNE.

Name

Address

Address the Business Manager

Lebanon Valley College

THANKSGIVING PERSONALS

Alice Woy will spend Thanksgiving vacation at the home of Grace Daniels in Minersville, Pa.

Virginia Edwards and Edna Graham will eat turkey at the home of one of last year's Freshmen, Grace Witmer, near Carlisle.

Miss Queenie M. Bilbo will leave Wednesday for Kentucky, to spend her vacation there among friends.

Gordon Starr and Harold Rider expect to be at their homes in Hagers-town, Md.

Our Athletic Editor will eat his Thanksgiving dinner in West Lawn, Pa.

Professor Derickson will devote part of his time to hunting near Mil-lersburg, Berks County, Pa. The re-mainder will be spent with his fam-ily in Harrisburg.

Harrisburg is the city in which Lu-cille Kann, Luther Seidel, Wayne Sparrow, and John Ambrose will spend their vacation.

Mary MacDougall will spend her vacation at home, Columbia, Pa.

John Luckens is a son of Schuyl-kill Haven. Here his vacation will be spent.

After the game on Thursday Uhl Kuhn and Charles Gelbert expect to go to Chambersburg.

Ruth Essick will be at home in Downingtown, Pa.

Elsie Reider and Olivet Haas will go to Middletown and Royalton, re-spectively.

Professor Gingrich expects to spend his vacation at Harrisonburg, Va. While there he hopes to bag some Southern game.

G. Reid Pierce will go from Selins-grove to his home at Youngsville, Pa.

Ambrose Meyer will remain in Annville.

Hilliard Smuck and Milford Knis-ley will be claimed by Red Lion dur-ing their vacation period.

Raymond Henry and Grant Smith will journey to the Reading main line town of Robesonia.

Sara Blecher will be found at her home in Myerstown while Daniel Gingrich will go further in the same direction and stop in Reading.

Our Business Manager expects to spend most of his time with his wife and family in Mountville.

Bernetta Burrier will spend part of her vacation visiting Mabel Hafer in Chambersburg.

Homer Wieder will go to State College, while his room-mate, Henry Brubaker will be found in the wilds of Virginia.

Nanticoke, the newest city in Pa. will welcome home Walter Zemski.

Bernice Hoover will spend her va-cation in Lancaster.

Walter L. Ness will go to Dallas-town, John F. Walter to Carlisle, and Harold Fox to Steelton.

Elizabethtown, of course, said Mir-iam Dougherty, when asked where her vacation would be spent.

Edmund Horner, whose home is in the city of flood fame, expects to go there, vis. Johnstown.

Mildred Lane will spend Thanks-giving vacation at Cozy Lake, N. J.

Theodore Zerfoss, Dominic Cala-brese, and Charles Lingle will spend their vacations at their homes, which are Ephrata, Lodi, N. J., and Oberlin.

Henry Williard intends to spend most of his time hunting in the mountains about Lykens.

Miles Kiehner comes from Cres-sona, and Ray Zeiders from Enola. There they will spend their vacations.

Dr. G. D. Gossard and family will be in Baltimore over Thanksgiving. Dr. Gossard will fill the pulpit in one of the Baltimore churches.

Josephine Matulitis expects to spend her vacation in Pottsville.

Madeline Mark will visit at the home of Gladys Buffington, in Eliza-bethville, over Thanksgiving.

Kenneth Reissinger will go to Sel-insgrove and while there will witness the game between Susquehanna and

Lebanon Valley.

Charles Runk will visit relatives and friends at Reading.

Charles Runk will visit relatives and friends at Reading.

Ira Matter will dine in Baltimore on Thanksgiving Day.

Clyde Rickabaugh will spend the week-end at Pottstown where he is Pastor of the Baltzell United Breth-eren Church.

Waynesboro will be the stopping off place of L. A. Lutz and Henry Kohler.

Luke Mimura will be entertained by Robert Reigl  at his home in Ly-kens.

Mervie Welty will be the guest of friends and relatives at York and Chambersburg. Sunday he will spend at Bendersville, where he is serving as Pastor.

Wade S. Miller will visit friends at Millersburg.

—o—

L. V. RIDES ROUGH- SHOD OVER ALBRIGHT

Continued From Page 1.

son for Piersol, Snavely for Heilman, Kuhn for Fox, Piel for Pierce. Ref-eree—Geiger, Temple. Umpire—Da-vidson, Penn. Head linesman—Houck, Ursinus.

The Game by Periods

Albright won the toss and decided to defend the east goal. The game started with Albright kicking off from their forty-yard line. Singley receiv-ed the ball and ran it back to his own thirty-five yard line before being downed. Here the Albright line held and Gilbert punted the ball over Al-bright's goal line. It was Albright's ball on their own twenty yard line. On the second play they fumbled, and Lebanon Valley recovered. Failing to gain through the Albright line, Piersol dropped back and booted a neat field goal from the thirty-five yard line. Score 3-0 in favor of Leba-non Valley. Shortly after the second kick-off, Piersol attempted another placement kick from the fifty-three yard line, but the kick fell short. It was Albright's ball again. Failing to gain through the Lebanon Valley line, Albright punted. A few minutes later a pass from Nitrauer to Gilbert net-ted a touchdown. Piersol kicked the ball from placement for the extra point. Score 10-0 in favor of Leba-non Valley. A short while later, with the ball on Albright's thirty-yard line, Piersol dropped back to the forty yard line and tallied another goal from placement. The first period ended shortly afterwards. The score at the close of the period stood 13-0 in favor of Lebanon Valley.

The second period began with Al-bright in possession of the ball on their own twenty-yard line. An ex-change of punts followed, and Leba-non Valley got possession of the ball in mid-field. Another exchange of punts took place, with Lebanon Valley getting the better of Albright in the exchange. Lebanon Valley was forced to kick again, and Gilbert's punt rolled over Albright's goal line. Play was resumed by Albright on their own twenty-yard line. Here Angle, their fleet-footed halfback, got loose and ran thirty yards before being brought to earth. On the next play, Singley intercepted an Albright pass and ran forty-five yards for a touch-down. Piersol accounted for the ex-tra point by a neat placement kick. Score now was 20-0 in favor of Leba-non Valley. A few minutes later Albright attempted another forward pass. Wheeler intercepted it and raced twenty-five yards for another touchdown. Piersol again accounted for the extra point. The first half ended with Lebanon Valley leading by a 27-0 score.

Albright opened the second half by kicking-off. Heilman, Lebanon Val-ley's captain, returned the ball to his own forty-yard line. Smuck was hurt in the play, but soon recovered and went back into the game. Lebanon Valley opened up a great offensive drive, which culminated, a few minutes later, in a touchdown, the re-sult of a pass from Singley to Gil-ber. Piersol again made a good placement kick for the extra point. Score 34-0. The remainder of the third period was a stiff battle, with neither team being able to make any consistent gains. Lebanon Valley was caught holding three times, and they lost forty-five yards through penal-ties. The second of these penalties gave Albright the ball on Lebanon Valley's thirty-yard line. However, they were unable to gain, and they attempted a field goal, which fell way short of the cross-bar. The period ended with Lebanon Valley still on the long end of a 34-0 score.

The final period opened with Leba-non Valley in possession of the ball on Albright's forty-five yard line. They were unable to gain the requir-ed distance, and Gilbert punted. Then followed an exchange of punts, with Lebanon Valley again having the ad-vantage in the exchange. Here Leba-non Valley uncorked a brilliant for-ward passing attack, which finally re-sulted in a touchdown, on a pass from Gilbert to Starr. Piersol again made good the kick for the extra point. At this point, Mylin, Lebanon Val-ley's coach, ran in the second team line. Even with the second team line opposing them, Albright was unable to gain. Time after time they were thrown for a loss. The game ended with the ball in Albright's possession in midfield. The final score was 41-0, in favor of Lebanon Valley.

—o—

CLIO CELEBRATES 55TH ANNIVERSARY

(Continued from Page 1)

(a) Indian Legends

Carrie Early
Lottie Snavely

(b) Negro Favorites

Helen Hafer
Permelia Rose
Sara C. Weider
Marion Corle
Eleanor R. Snoke

(c) Colonial Customs

Pearl C. Morrow
Myra O. Shaeffer
Madeline A. Mark
Nellie G. Rabenstine
Louella C. Lehman
Jennie E. Shoop
Elsie M. Reider
Edna M. Graham

Orchestra

The society took a great deal of pleasure in staging the program. Its nature was such as to afford splendid opportunity for development in those things with which any literary soci-ty is concerned and called forth the best efforts and fullest co-operation of its members and means growth within the society.

—o—

L. V. DELEGATES ATTEND ANNUAL STUDENT CONFERENCE

(Continued from Page 1)

Aside from the conference sessions the girls were royally entertained by the students of Wellesley. On Thurs-day night a formal dinner was held in Alumnae Hall after which a recep-tion was given at Town Court by the President, Miss Pendleton. On Friday afternoon the sororities entertained their guests at tea. In the evening a dramatic production was given by the Barnswallows Association.

Our delegates said that they just couldn't help enjoying every minute they spent at Wellesley. On their re-turn trip they stopped at Cambridge where they were guests at Radcliffe College and Harvard University on Sunday. Here, too, they had a most delightful time. Their enthusiasm upon returning for trying to accom-plish many big and better things on our campus this year sufficiently proves to us that the conference was a decided success.

—o—

Some co-eds are so dumb they think a head-linesman is a newspaper man.

Former Student Will Wed Leb. Girl

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

A former member of the Lebanon Valley student body has been pierced by Cupid's dart, and though husky enough, had not sufficient strength to survive. As a result—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grosky, of 1137 Lehman Street, Lebanon, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Rach-ael Lillian, to Isaac Baron, of Hart-ford, Conn.

The prospective bridegroom has a host of friends among the student body, "Iky" having been active on the Varsity football, basketball, and baseball teams. His bride-to-be is well known in Annville and Lebanon, having completed a commercial course in Lebanon High School and the Leba-non Business College.

The students of Lebanon Valley College join in wishing the couple happiness.

—o—

Nelle Rabenstine Elected Captain Basketball Team

At a recent meeting of the Girl's Varsity Basketball Team, Nelle Ra-benstine was elected Captain for the 1925-26 season.

During her Freshmen and Sopho-more years Nelle proved to be a valu-able addition to the sextette and was rewarded with the offer of captaincy.

We wish you luck, Nelle, and may you lead your team to victory!

—o—

L. V. PREPARES FOR FINAL GAME

(Continued from Page 1)

Sea- son	Lebanon Valley	Susque- hanna	Where Played
1924	28	0	Annville
1923	21	13	Susquehanna
1922	19	0	Lebanon
1921	0	0	Susquehanna

68 points were piled up by L. V. against 15 by the opposing team.

Susquehanna played Schuylkill Col-lege to a 6-6 tie and judging from this game L. V. should not have much trouble in conquering her foe as she defeated Schuylkill 28-6, playing nothing but straight foot ball and using the entire second team during different periods of the second and third quarters.

Susquehanna has always put up a strong battle against Lebanon Val-ley and the one big factor that is in favor of Susquehanna is the fact that the game will be played on the Sus-quehanna gridiron, and the Susque-hanna boys will have the student body back of them.

Our coach, "Hooks" Mylin is giving his men a strenuous workout in order to have them in the best of physical condition and further to close this successful football season with a vic-tory.

Lebanon Valley has faced one of the strongest football schedules in the history of the school and deserves much credit for the remarkable show-

—o—

In American Lit.

Miss Bilbo: Give me, in short, Washington's Farewell Address.

Freshman: Heaven.

* * *

English As She Is Spoke.

A Frenchman learning English said to his tutor: "English is a queer language. What does this sentence mean: 'Should Mr. Noble, who sits for this constituency, consent to stand again and run he will in all probability have a walk-over.'"

* * *

A dollar may only be worth one half of what it used to be, but that is no sign it is twice as easy to borrow.

Kampus Kraks

This little kolumn of Kampus Kraks Will kandidly kronikle all kollege faks.

Kontributions from kut-ups are al-ways akcepted.

Unless we're konstrained by a too-aktive konscience.

And so, if you're kuoted in "Klean Komiks Kolumn,"

Be a sport, kid the others, and help us to fun 'em.

* * *

Miss Bilbo has a terrible time be-coming Pennsylvanized. The other day when Chef had prepared that de-lectable dish, scrapple, which is a combination of mush and pudding, and fried in our old Pennsylvania Dutch way, Miss Bilbo said, "Please pass the shrapnel."

* * *

Flea (to elephant, getting off the ark) "Don't shove me big boy."

* * *

"Pete"—Sheep are certainly stupid animals.

Dick—Yes, my lamb.

* * *

A school girl complexion may make a man rave,

A peach-bloom cheek may temper a knave,

A gold glint marcel a love path may pave,

But a man will go far for a per-manent shave.

Pup.

* * *

How To See Lebanon Valley College Sights.

You are probably already there. If not, wait until the train stops and then get off. You are at Annville. First, ascertain your bearings for all further directions and then take out of your pocket a compass. The com-pass may not work. Look for a boy with a green cap and ask him which is west. He won't know. He doesn't know anything. That being settled face the west. Now turn a backward somersault. If properly executed, you are still facing west. Take two steps in the direction you are facing. Then turn around as if you have forgotten something. Go back after it.

Admire the intelligent students on the campus. Notice the maidens. Re-alize they are co-eds and say "Oh, no wonder!" Return to the station and look for buses. There are none. Look for trains. There are a few. Get on one. It will take you away. Then look thankful. You should be.

* * *

Mary Denlinger—"Oh, girls, I'm so blue!"

One hour later after chemistry lab. —"Oh, I'm so happy! I talked to Joe the whole hour."

* * *

The big problem in South Hall is—How Ambrose got Edna's ring, when Edna didn't give it to him?

* * *

Kitty—I have a date to-night.

Helen—Are you going to be busy?

Kitty—I don't know. It's the first time I've been out with him.

* * *

Dave Shroyer (eating at the Crys-tal) Waiter get me a rabbit hound, there's a hair in my soup.

* * *

Who is the Frosh who wished that the fifteenth of November would come so that he could write to his girl? ? ? Twinkle, twinkle, gentle Starr!

* * *

Dick Wenner went out with the electrician's daughter, but didn't get shocked. Atta boy! Better luck next time.

* * *

"Judge" Marshall (speaking of Lu-cille Kann) Well, we have one thing in common."

Lingle—"Well, what's that?"

"Judge"—"She's a doctor's daugh-ter, and I'm a doctor's son."

* * *

La Vie Collégienne

VOL. I

ANNVILLE, PA., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 10, 1925

NO. 2

New York Artists Will Appear Here

FIRST NUMBER OF STAR COURSE TO BE GIVEN DECEMBER 17

Miss Ellen Keller and her New York Artists will give the first number of the Star Course in Engle Conservatory on December 17, at eight P.M. Miss Keller—a violinist of international fame—began her musical education in Europe at the age of fourteen. She studied under two of the great masters of the continent, Professors Hese and Sevcik. She was one of the few American students admitted to the Royal Academy in Berlin. Miss Keller plays with a vigor and masculinity most unusual in a woman violinist. She combines superb technique with feeling, ease and grace. William P. Kelgard, "The Philosopher of Folly," who is unquestionably the most popular entertainer in New York City, and Louis Cheney, pianist and accompanist, complete this group of New York artists.

Henry Clay Risner, Lecturer, will appear in the second number of the Star Course, on January 18. Dora De Philippe, a genuine success in recital and opera, will appear on March 3. Fritz Bruch and his company of three will appear in the last Star Course number, March 22.

The Star Course Committee assures us that these artists come highly recommended, and that the course this year will outclass that of last. Tickets for the whole course of four numbers are now obtainable from any member of the committee at the regular price of two dollars.

Lebanon Valley's Christmas Pageant

WILL BE GIVEN IN CHAPEL AFTER ANNUAL BANQUET

A Christmas Pageant will be given in Engle Conservatory, immediately after the Christmas Banquet, Wednesday, December 16. The pageant is an annual affair, given by the Young Woman's Christian Association.

The pageant as planned this year will be a group of scenes portraying the annunciation, the holy birth, and the visit of the wise men to Bethlehem. Each scene will be introduced by the reading of a corresponding part of the Christmas Story, and will be accompanied either by a solo voice or voices in chorus. There will be soft organ music thruout the entertainment. The beauty and simplicity of the tableaux, the quality of the musical accompaniment and the interest shown by those concerned point toward a very beautiful and impressive pageant.

Miss Ruth Engle is directing the chorus work, while Miss Josephine Matulitis is directing the pageant. Some of the students assisting are:

(Continued On Page 4)

Maier and Pattison, Who Will Give Concert Here, Have Attained Enviably Position In Their Field

MODERN COMPOSERS WELL REPRESENTED ON RECITAL PROGRAMS OF PIANISTS WHO HAVE ALREADY ENTERED RANKS—HUMOR FINDS CONSPICUOUS PLACE—JAZZ FEATURED IN TWO-PIANO NUMBER BY YOUTHFUL ARTISTS WHOSE RISE TO SUCCESS HAS BEEN PHENOMENAL

A recital of music for two pianos by Guy Maier and Lee Pattison, commonly called the "pianistic Siamese twins," is announced for Thursday, January 7th, at the Academy of Music, Lebanon, Pennsylvania. The recital is the second of the Artists' Series which is sponsored by the Conservatory of Lebanon Valley College.

Maier and Pattison are two young Americans, both in the early twenties, who have made a new art of the much abused two-piano program, and for the last few years their success has been remarkable. In addition to playing everything classified from Bach down to Tailleferre, who is the most super-modern of all moderns, they even play a glorified form of jazz. When asked what was his attitude toward modern jazz music Mr. Pattison is quoted as saying, "It may be that the modern jazz will result in a truly American school of composition that will take an honorable and prominent place in the world's musical output."

It may be interesting to know that first Maier and Pattison played together for their own amusement only. They were students together in Boston and later in Berlin under Arthur Schnabel. When they returned to America, they were persuaded to exhibit before the public. Their success was immediate and so their "Concerts of Music for Two Pianos" came into being. They have toured Australia, New Zealand and Hawaii; have appeared in concerts in England and France and during the past season have played over fifty recitals in the United States.

As a result of their several years of work and study together, these young men appear to have established a telepathic connection. On the program which they will present in Lebanon, the modern school of music will be interestingly and amply presented. Many numbers that are novel and out of the ordinary are also promised.

Christmas Shopping May Be Done On The Campus

Y. W. C. A. To Hold Bazaar And Tea In Gymnasium

The faculty, townspeople, and the student body will be given an opportunity to do some of their Christmas shopping on Saturday, Dec. 12, in the gymnasium. A beautiful assortment of Japanese articles—delightful Christmas gifts—will be on display. Come and look them over.

The bazaar is being given by the Young Woman's Christian Association, and the co-operation of the faculty and the student body will be greatly appreciated. The articles will be on sale from 2:00 Saturday afternoon until 10:00 P. M.

Besides the sale of Japanese articles there will be candy, cakes, ice cream, and various other goodies on sale. A charming program has also been arranged which you can't afford to miss. (Continued On Page 2)

SUMMER SCHOOL COMMITTEE PLANS FOR SIX WEEKS' SESSION

The sixth year of Summer Courses of Lebanon Valley College is being arranged for and has been put in the hands of the Summer School committee. A single term of six weeks with subjects held five times a week is planned. The courses are designed primarily for those who wish to shorten the period of college residence or to make up deficiencies; and for teachers who wish, while teaching, to advance toward a college degree, or to meet the requirements for the various classes of teachers' certificates. All courses will be taught by regular members of the college faculty and all the resources of the institution will be at the disposal of the summer students. The enrollment of last summer was one hundred and an increase is expected for the summer of 1926.

Conservatory Students in Fine Recital

The students of the Conservatory of Music gave a delightful recital Tuesday evening, December 8. This was the second of a series of recitals that will be given by the Conservatory students throughout the year. The Professors of the Conservatory deserve much credit for their earnest endeavors to make these recitals a big success, and it is hoped that the students and people of the vicinity will take advantage of these opportunities to hear talented artists at no expense whatever.

The following program was given:
French Folk Time
Helen Butterwick

A Fireside Tale.....Binder
Anna Butterwick

Romance.....Beethoven
Henry Grimm

Etude Melodique.....Rogers
Alice Woy

Soprano Solo
Gladys Carrender

The Cello Player.....McIntyre
Richard Shaeffer

Air de Ballet.....Chaminade
Mary Grubb

Pastorale Sonata.....Rheinberger
Mabel Yingst

Impromptu in A Flat.....Schubert
Grace Daniel

(a) To the Evening Star.....Wagner
(b) Der Asra.....Rubenstein

David Shroyer

Impromptu in C Sharp Minor.....Reinhold
Violet Krone

(a) Angels Even Bright and Fair
Handel

(b) Father of Mercies.....Mozart
Pearl Lindemuth

Toccato in G Minor.....Matthews
Sarah Werner

Christmas Banquet Plans Completed

INTERESTING PROGRAM ARRANGED BY THE STUDENTS

The annual Christmas Banquet given by the Finance Committee to the boarding students of the college will be held on Wednesday, December 16, at five-thirty. The members of the faculty are the guests of the students on this occasion. The planning of the banquet is in the hands of the Woman's Student Government Association and the Men's Senate. Elaborate plans—in which "Chef" plays no small part—are being made for this affair.

The Entertainment Committee has been at work, and has arranged a very interesting after-dinner program. Dr. G. D. Gossard will be the toastmaster in the large dining room. The other speakers will be Professors Reynolds and Wallace, Permelia Rose, Maynard Sparks, Frances Long, and Maynard Wilson. The small dining room will have Dr. Bennett as toastmaster, and Professors Shenk and Ritchie, Kenneth Roper, Kathryn Young, Bruce Behney, and Jane Fearnow, as the other speakers.

Women's Auxiliary To Hold Christmas Tea At North Hall

Attractive Program Will Be Presented By College Girls At Annual Reception.

Following an annual custom, the Lebanon Valley College Auxiliary will entertain at a Christmas party, Thursday afternoon, December 10th, from three to five. Mrs. Gossard, President of the Auxiliary, is at the head of the affair. The principal feature of the afternoon will be an interesting program arranged and pro-

(Continued On Page 4)

Football Men Make Merry at Annual Banquet

DR. GOSSARD AND COACH MYLIN, CHIEF SPEAKERS, COMMEND MEN ON SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The annual football banquet was held at "Chef's Place," Wednesday evening, Dec. 2. The entire football squad was present, and the Hershey Syncopators made the occasion a musical one.

The toastmaster for the evening, Dr. G. D. Gossard, discussed athletics at Lebanon Valley. He pointed out the need for athletics, especially the need for clean athletics such as our boys have played during the past season. He congratulated the boys upon their splendid team work, which is always the greatest factor in producing a successful team.

Dr. Gossard then introduced Coach Mylin, who responded by a toast in which he reviewed the past season. He expressed his regrets that more men had not reported for training, the past season, but hoped to have three or four teams on the field next year. However, Coach Mylin admitted that he was well pleased with the team, and marked it as the fastest team he had ever coached.

Professor Dotter, treasurer of the Athletic Council, was the next speaker. He stated that the finances at the present time are better than at any time during the history of the school.

Dr. Marshall, the team's physician, spoke next. He stated that there were fewer injuries this season than any other. This proved conclusively that the boys kept themselves in perfect physical condition, which showed that they were out to do their best.

Dr. Butterwick complimented the boys for their clean playing, and advised them to play the game of life just as clean as they had played the game against their rivals throughout the season.

Captain Heilman was then called upon by the toastmaster. He thanked the boys for their co-operation throughout the season, and then surrendered his position to Captain-elect Fox, who expressed his gratitude to the boys for electing him to this position, and concluded by saying that he would do all in his power to have a winning team next season.

Dr. Gossard then presented L's to the following men:

Captain Heilman, Captain-elect Fox, Manager Ulrich, Meyer, Elberti, Wheeler, Wilson, Piersol, Nitrauer, Wood, Gingrich, Starr, Pierce, Reigle, Gelbert, Metoxin, Smuck, and Singley.

The menu was as follows:

Cream of Tomato a la Reine
Celery Mixed Nuts Olives
Turkey Chestnut Filling
Cranberry Sauce
Creamed Corn Candied Sweets
Salad

Ice Cream Cafe Noir
After Dinner Mints

Those present were:

Dr. G. D. Gossard, Coach E. E. Mylin, Prof. C. R. Gingrich, Dr. R. R.

(Continued On Page 3)

La Vie Collégienne

Published Bi-Weekly By The Students Of Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa.

Editor-in-chief..... William Grill '26
Associate Editors..... Marion Hess '26
Elizabeth Stauffer '26
Reporters
Conservatory..... Ruth Miller '27
Athletic..... J. Allen Richards '26
Clio..... Emma Madciff '27
Delphian..... Florence Dundore '27
Kalo..... Maynard Sparks '27
Philo..... Le Roy Fegley '27
General..... Madeline Mark '27
Walter Ness '27

Business Manager..... Henry M. Gingrich '26
Associate Business Managers..... Clarence Ulrich '27
Darkes Albright '28

Faculty Advisors

Queenie M. Bilbo..... Harold Bennett
Robert R. Butterwick

Terms—$1.00 per year. Single copies 5 cents. Application for entry as second class mail matter at Annville, Penna., filed December 10, 1925. Address all matters of general concern to the Editor-in-chief. Address all business communications to the Business Manager.

A BIGGER AND BETTER
LEBANON VALLEY

THE STAR COURSE.

On Dec. 17, you will be given the opportunity of hearing the first number of this season's Star Course. Through the combined efforts of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. the entertainment offered this year promises to outdo anything heretofore attempted. You can no less afford to miss the first, as well as the succeeding numbers, than you can to miss any part of your regular college work. The benefits to be derived therefrom are not as apparent as from some other things, but they are none the less real. The cause deserves your financial and moral support, but not more than you need the chance for development offered by it in turn.

A COLLEGE BAND

For many years there has been talk of a college band being organized, but to date we are still doing nothing more than talk about the possibilities. At the present time there are between twenty and thirty boys on the campus who can play band instruments. Isn't that a sufficient nucleus around which to build a band?

There is no doubt in the mind of the Student Body that a college band would be of great help in dispensing of spirit at athletic contests and mass meetings. One thing necessary to make a pep meeting a success is noise, and a college band is noted for that. More pep means a better college spirit, which in turn means a greater college. We can't afford to miss this golden opportunity. Is there not someone among the student body sufficiently interested who will come to the fore and undertake the task of organization?

We are willing and ready to do anything that will be of assistance to any such movement, and we hope that before long Lebanon Valley can boast of a college band.

WANTED—A place to sleep at nights; preferably near the Scrap Yards. Address: "Old Man," 1133 Mifflin St., Lebanon, Pa. Bell Phone 820.

COLLEGE CALENDAR

Thurs., Dec. 10, 7:00 P.M.—Meeting of the Mathematical Round Table.
Thurs., Dec. 10, 8:00 P.M.—Y. M. C. A. Meeting.
Fri., Dec. 11, 7:00 P.M.—Regular Meeting of the Literary Societies.
Sat., Dec. 12, 2:00-10:00 P.M.—Japanese Bazaar by the Y. W. C. A.
Sun., Dec. 13, 5:45 P.M.—Y. W. C. A. Devotional Meeting.
Mon., Dec. 14, 6:30 P.M.—Meeting of the Authors Club.
Tues., Dec. 15, 6:15 P.M.—College Prayer Meeting.
Tues., Dec. 15, 7:00 P.M.—Meeting of the Historical Society.
Wed., Dec. 16, 5:30 P.M.—Annual Christmas Banquet.
Thurs., Dec. 17, 8:00 P.M.—First Number of Star Course.
Sat., Dec. 19, 1:00 P.M.—Christmas Recess Begins.

Interesting Data On Source Of Student Body

The source of the students of Lebanon Valley College furnishes some very interesting data. That which is of most interest, are the sections of the county from which our students come. The majority of the students come from Pennsylvania, and the larger number of these are from the vicinity of Lebanon, Harrisburg, and York. But as compared with the Freshman class of 1924, we see the influence of Lebanon Valley College spreading further to the west, with students coming from Cambria, Westmoreland, Clearfield, and Blair counties. This speaks well for our college, since it shows that other Pennsylvania students, as well, recognize our merits.

Another interesting comparison is found in the number of our students who come from states other than Penna. For instance, last year we had only two students from New Jersey, while this year the number has increased to seven. New York State was not represented last year, while this year we have four Freshmen coming from widely separated counties. The number coming from Virginia has increased from one to two, but in the case of Maryland the number has decreased from three to two. From West Virginia we have two representatives.

On the whole we can see that the sphere of influence of the college is spreading further each year. These statistics speak well for the further growth of Lebanon Valley College. They are also proof of the fact that our college is receiving wider recognition for the value which the students receive.

Christmas Shopping To Be Done On The Campus

(Continued From Page 1)
ford to miss. The Japanese articles are lovely and inexpensive. Among the assortment are, paints, pictures, purses, stationery, small lacquered boxes, letter openers, flower vases, silk lamp shades, incense burners, baskets, lunch cloths and napkins, salad fork and spoon sets, crumb trays, cigarette cases, handkerchiefs, shoe trees, beads and necklaces, many pendants, novelties and many other articles.

Come and bring your money. The Y. W. girls will do the rest.

Have you seen the Y. W. Christmas Seal Cards? They are on sale now.

NOTICE—ALUMNI!

WANTED—Any of the College Forums, the College News, or Crucibles that are stored away. The library wants to complete its files. The files now are so incomplete that any copies will be welcome. Thank you.

Alumni Notes

In the recent election an interesting fact has turned up. Two men elected as District Attorneys, are Lebanon Valley College graduates—Ray G. Light '06, of Lebanon Co., and Amos U. Herrman '07, of Red Lion, York Co. Mr. Ray G. Light ran against and defeated Mr. Gideon R. Light, who was himself a former student here, although no graduate. Mr. Herrman was formerly assistant District Attorney in his county.

Mr. John R. Geyer, Esq., '01, delivered a very unique talk to the Medical Society of Dauphin Co., upon the subject "The Doctor in Court." Mr. Geyer, it will be remembered, delivered an address at the opening exercises of the college several years ago.

Rev. David E. Young '14, of the Third United Brethren Church of Philadelphia, was elected a trustee of the college at the last annual East Pennsylvania Conference.

William Rhoad '25, and William Quaid '25, both of Harrisburg, W. H. Smith '25, and Paul Gruver, both of West Virginia, are now attending Bonebrake Theological Seminary.

Dr. Lyter, pastor of the Annville United Brethren Church, who accepted a position in Dayton, Ohio, has consented to remain in Annville until January.

"Gigs" Moore, '21, who is teaching at Garfield, N. J., reports a very swelled eight of the eleven games played. There are at present five students here who come from Garfield High.

Dr. F. Berry Plummer '12, of St. Paul's Church, Hagerstown, Md., with a committee from that church have been visiting churches, anticipating the building of a new one which will probably cost $250,000. Dr. Plummer visited the Annville church and also dropped into the College office, Wed., Dec. 2.

Cawley Stine '20, is now preaching at Old Otterbein Church, Baltimore, Md. It is the church built by Otterbein in 1785, and where he preached until his death in 1813. It is the oldest church in Baltimore.

Dr. Raymond P. Dougherty '03, has a leave of absence for a year from Goucher College where he was the professor of Biblical Literature. He is now teaching in Jerusalem and at the same time making a study of languages there. Dr. Dougherty is an authority on the languages of the far east.

Gideon Yeager, a former student here, visited the college in September, on his way to his home in New England. Mr. Yeager who was prominent in football while here, is now in the real estate business at Sebring, Florida.

William H. Behney '25, is teaching at St. Bernard's School, Gladstone, N. J. Mr. Behney is teaching in the Science Dept., and seems to like his work extremely well.

Dr. Charles H. Arndt '14, accepted, during the last summer, a position with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in Haiti. He has charge of an experiment laboratory, and is doing work in connection with diseases of the coffee plant. Dr. Arndt was formerly connected with the Dept. of Botany at the University of Penna. from which place he received his Ph. D.

Who And What

Professor H. H. Shenk delivered a most interesting address at a joint session of the Junior and Senior Civic Clubs of Shippensburg, Friday, Nov. 27, on "Famous Pennsylvania Women." The same address was given before the Civic Club of Steelton Monday afternoon, Dec. 7. Professor Shenk is very much interested in and quite an authority on Pennsylvania History and Biography.

Miss Elizabeth Brenneman, who has been confined in the Good Samaritan Hospital at Lebanon for the past few weeks, is now spending a few days at the Longenecker home in Cleona. She expects to be able to resume her work at Lebanon Valley College in the near future. The student body is very glad to welcome Miss Brenneman back to school.

We hear rumors that Miss Ruth Engle expects to spend her Christmas vacation in New York, studying intensively.

Prof. S. O. Grimm reports that nothing is better than a York County Turkey, especially those at Red Lion, where he and his family had an enjoyable day on Sunday, Nov. 29.

World Court In Colleges

SHOULD BE AN ACADEMIC QUESTION—NOT AN ISSUE

The World Court is a subject which is being discussed at present by students in colleges all over the country. Through the state conference held at Harrisburg a few days ago and in the debates which the members of Dr. Wallace's Advanced Public Speaking Class have been staging recently the students of Lebanon Valley are becoming aware of the implications of the question. The World Court in Colleges should be an Academic Question and not a political issue. In this connection we print the following excerpt by courtesy of the Yale Daily News.

Those who are opposed to the proposal that the United States participate immediately and without conditions in the work of the World Court, thus becoming a member state, are accused of being isolationists, of working against world peace, and of being unwilling to substitute law for war. Nothing could be more unfounded and foolish than this accusation. It betrays a tragic lack of objectivity on the part of most of the propagandists for the World Court. They are under the spell of a great idea; to them the World Court issue has become the symbol and test of America's willingness to co-operate with other nations in the effort to diminish the chances of war. Being in this subjective frame of mind they are impatient with those who insist upon examining the World Court proposal without parti pris.

Herein lies the danger. Instead of educating public opinion the World Court propagandists are endeavoring to stampede it. From senate chamber to college mass meeting the World Court issue is being presented as the great choice between following the path toward peace or the path toward war. In the Senate and in public mass meetings, if the World Court is a political issue, as it seems to be, that is all right. In the colleges it is all wrong. College students should be kept free of mass meetings and propaganda on this question. It should remain an academic question—mark the word!

This And That

In a recent number of Scribner's appeared the following: "If a young man really wants an education he can get one any where, even at college."

The discussion was an indictment against the American college. We do not propose to defend the college other than not to condemn it. But that something is wrong with the spirit of the student bodies in colleges is perhaps nearer the truth than many of us, as individuals, would care to admit. That these conditions obtain only at Lebanon Valley would be a misstatement of fact, as would also the statement that all individual students are equally guilty. Take our institution as the average and yourself as the individual.

It is a fact that most of us must make a living. If we get to college, we are fortunate. But our responsibility is not removed, only deferred. And that postponement is for preparation. Most of us misconstrue it to mean that we are given a four years' vacation before starting the grind. If the man outside of college would take his work as lightly as does the college student, he would not be rewarded with enough of this world's goods in ten years to keep him alive for one-half of that time. To hear us talk we are of all men the busiest.

We study, it is true, but only enough to be able to make a grade which will enable us to stay in college. We consider the professors as small boys do policemen. We follow the path of least resistance for five days in the week, and on the other two do less yet. We take an active part in all extra-curriculum activities, and do fairly well until we are called upon to do some real work, then we are very sorry, but some other engagement prevents our serving. We attend classes, but long for the end of the hour to come, when we will again be free to do nothing. We want holidays, and glory when a professor does not meet our class.

Efficiency is the one word which spells success in any particular field in which we labor. The word itself implies, along with many other things, economy. That is the reason for practically all of the changes in this industrial era of civilization.

For about seventy-five years the size of our currency has not been changed. Designs and engravings upon the bills and notes are constantly being disturbed, but not so the dimensions. Now comes the announcement that new money will be issued and the old retired from circulation. These new notes will be one inch shorter and one-half inch narrower than those now current.

This would be a reduction of one-third and would be just that much of a saving of the raw materials which go into the make up of our money. That it would be worth while is evident when we know that the government spends nearly $8,000,000 annually for the manufacture of paper money. About 63 per cent. of this goes toward making one dollar bills. There are now 421,000,000 of these in circulation.

WHY LEBANON VALLEY?

One Hundred Fifteen Frosh Reveal Subtle Influences Determining Choice Of College.

If you were asked that question, fellow students, could you answer definitely and concretely? Four weeks ago, opening their College Public Speaking Course with a speech on "Why I Came to Lebanon Valley," one hundred fifteen of this year's Freshman class did just that, and found the results interesting, enlightening,—and in some cases amusing. For one poor freshman went so far as to say that he came to college on a bet, taking up someone's wager that he couldn't "make the grade."

In general, the reasons given were not as varied as one might have expected, all following one general trend. One cannot help but note, as he considers these reasons as a whole, that the personal element enters into the explanation in almost every case. Whatever the specific reason might have been, a bigger and broader one, personal contact of some sort or other, lies back of it.

Statistics are not always interesting, but in this case the writer found them extremely so. The motive for coming to L. V. stated most often was the fact that it is a United Brethren school. As is natural, this urged many young men and women in that church—directly or indirectly—to make L. V. their choice. It may be safely said that more than fifty mentioned this as a reason.

More than one-third the class, wishing a small school because of the personal touch with professors and the wide acquaintance with all students, chose Lebanon Valley as fulfilling this requirement and yet maintaining the high scholastic standing they desired. Many others varied this last point by mentioning the fact that expenses at L. V. C. are so small when one considers the splendid scholastic standing which is being and will be maintained.

Approximately a dozen mentioned that parents or other relatives were alumni, while half that many were influenced by other alumni who happened to be their high school teachers. Many day-students reported that they had been influenced by Professor Wagner, who has done admirable work in the past few years in the way of soliciting students. Several of the same day-students, of course, explained that they were saving considerably, financially, by attending an accredited college so close to their home. The speeches of Dr. Gossard or other affiliated persons at church or educational meetings in various parts of Pennsylvania were named by many as having aroused interest in Lebanon Valley and its people.

Another big reason given was the high standing of special departments and the spreading fame of several of our professors. Some expressed the excellent training one receives in our science departments, other naming English, or the languages, or music. The splendid and well-loved plays of recent years, as well as their director, also received a part of the credit due them for putting Lebanon Valley on the map. The Glee Club and the teams in football and other sports were naturally quoted in some cases.

All of which leads the writer to repeat that the personal element touches all these statistics. It may be that the explanation the student gave merely aroused his interest in the school. But the result was that he sent for a catalogue and other literature, inquired concerning L. V. in other ways, and finally found it wise to come here for his undergraduate work.

The results prove, too, that the activities at L. V. C. attract more

FACULTY HAVE THANKSGIVING DINNER

Guests Of President And Mrs. Gossard.

Dr. and Mrs. Gossard delightfully entertained the members of the faculty and their wives at a pre-Thanksgiving Dinner given at Chef's Place on Tuesday evening, November 24 at seven thirty. Attractive decorations and favors and special music made the occasion an enjoyable one. An interesting innovation in after-dinner speaking was provided in a debate upon the subject, Resolved that the United States Should Annex Canada. Those supporting the affirmative were Professors Gingrich and Grimm. Those supporting the negative were Professors Bennett and Wallace. Dr. Gossard acted as umpire and no casualties ensued.

The menu was as follows:

Hors d'oeuvre
Oyster cocktail
Cream of Tomato Soup
Roast Turkey	Chestnut Filling
Cranberry Sauce	Candied Sweet Potatoes
Raspberry Sherbet
Salad	Wafers
Mince Pie a la Mode
Salted Nuts	Mints
Cafe Noir

GIRLS' CHORAL SOCIETY ORGANIZE FOR REHEARSAL

During a recent interview with Miss Engle, of the Music Department, very encouraging news was given out proving the Conservatory to be one of the most active departments of the school.

When asked about the Glee Club, Miss Engle announced that but nine of the club will be lost this year. Of the last year's club the following remain:

Beatrice Slessor, pianist; first sopranos, Benetta Burrier, Pearl Lindemuth, Permelia Rose, Betty Stauffer; second sopranos, Dorcas Bortz, Mabel Hafer, Mary MacDougal, Josephine Matulitus, Nelda Spatz, Sara Wieder; first altos, Marion Corle, Marion Hess, Isabel Horst, Eleanor Snoke; second altos, Helen Longenecker, Irene Schell, Viola Wolfe.

Approximately twenty five new girls have reported for the "try-outs" but as yet no definite report has been made.

Clio Freshmen Are Active

The freshmen members of Clio had charge of the program Friday night last. This was the first opportunity which the society had of enjoying the talent of its new members. The program was cleverly planned, and quite surprising in its nature. The old Clio girls were delightfully entertained by the following program:

Knots and Nuts
Doughnuts	Ruth Essick
Sailor Knots	Mae Burkholder
Forget-Me-Nots	Grace Daniels
Soap Nuts	Nancy Ulrich
Rush Nuts	Marian Hoffman
Lover's Knot	Violet Krone
Sketch—Knots & Nuts
Directed by Emma Shaeffer
Knots to Tie	Mary Buch

students than the most extensive commercial advertising can ever hope to; in other words, that well directed and well executed school activities are the best advertising.

By next year, "La Vie Collegienne" will have taken its place among those activities and some college students-to-be, having read our paper, will have become interested and turned their plans toward L. V. C. We cherish that hope.

Historical Society Gives Fine Program

Bowman And Fackler Interesting Speakers

Lloyd S. Bowman and Leland K. Fackler delightfully entertained the members of the Historical Society at the regular meeting of that organization, Tuesday evening, Dec. 1.

Mr. Bowman spoke on "My Personal Experiences in the World War." From the camp in this country, he took us with him across the "Big Pond," vividly describing the watch, the meals, the sighting of a submarine, and the landing at Bordeaux. Next we were taken to one of the actual jobs performed by the Engineers. The particular operation described, was the construction of a cold storage plant, built to hold thirteen million tons of beef. The building of the plant was done slowly but surely by Chinese. The monotony of routine, Mr. Bowman said, was broken by several leaves of absence. At these times we were taken hurriedly over the Battlefields, to Southern France, Northern Italy, the British Isles, Rhims, and "Gay Paree." After the signing of the Armistice, we were joyously set down in America, agreeing with the speaker when he said "The pleasant experiences outweighed the unpleasant ones."

Mr. Fackler spoke on the "Superstitions of the Pennsylvania Germans." He explained how phenomena not readily understood by our forefathers were easily interpreted in the realm of the superstitious. Many examples of both familiar and less well known superstitions were cited. Among these were, the beliefs that worms and frogs actually fall with the rain, that the horseshoe and the four leaf clover are signs of luck and that the crowing rooster predicts visitors. He also told us that at one time people believed that a purse, shaken at the time of the call of the first whip-poor-will in the spring, would never become empty. A toothpick taken from a tree splintered by lightning is proof against tooth-ache. These are but a few of the many superstitions given.

The speeches were well prepared, well delivered, and given before the largest meeting held thus far this year.

Professor Gingrich Organizes Debaters

With Lebanon Valley's gridiron season successfully drawn to a close, the interest of the students is now being concerned with the winter sports among which Intercollegiate Debating holds an important place. Up to this time only a few of the students have seriously been considering the prospects for the coming season, but as the season draws nearer more interest is assured.

Through the columns of "La Vie Collegienne" Professor C. R. Gingrich—who is devoting much of his time to the development of this "sport" at Lebanon Valley—urged all men who are interested in Debating to report for organization and work at the College Library, Wednesday evening, December 9th, at 7 P. M. It was especially desired that a full squad turn out in order that work might proceed without delay. At this meeting business of importance was transacted including the election of a Manager as well as other officers of the organization. Let us not fail to give Professor Gingrich our utmost co-operation in helping him to develop a club of high repute.

Miss Queenie Bilbo will spend her Christmas vacation at her home in Creston, Iowa.

CONSERVATORY STUDENT RECENTLY MARRIED

Ceremony Performed In York By Father Of Bride

The home of Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Miller, of York, Pa., was the scene of a pretty wedding, Wednesday evening, November 25th, when their daughter, Ruth, was married to Donovan Frock, of Hanover. The ceremony was performed by the bride's father. Following the marriage the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Philadelphia and New York after which they returned to York where they will reside with the bride's parents for the present.

The bride was a Junior in Lebanon Valley College and a student of the Conservatory. She was active in several organizations. The announcement of her marriage came as a great surprise to her many friends who had at no time any idea of her wedding plans.

The groom is connected with the Hanover Cordage and Rope Company and is active in numerous lodges and civic organizations.

Ishimura To Give Illustrated Lecture On Japan

With the autumn term of Kalo's activities drawing rapidly to a close, much interest and enthusiasm is being aroused in view of the approach of the winter activities and the election of officers which will take place before the beginning of the Xmas vacation. From the sentiment among the boys the programs have been of a much higher type than in previous years and the spirit of co-operation has been exceptionally fine.

As a special feature of the program, arranged for Friday, December 11th, Mr. Henry T. Ishimura, a native of Japan, will present an illustrated lecture on his native land. For this occasion we especially are desirous that all the boys and others interested shall be present.

WRITERS' CLUB STORY CONTEST CLOSSES

The short story contest, sponsored by the Writers' Club, closed Tuesday, December 1. At the meeting of the Club, December 2, in North Hall parlor, a number of the short stories were read and criticized. The manuscripts have been put into the hands of the judges, who are as follows: Miss Queenie Bilbo, chairman of the Judges Committee, and member of the English Department of Lebanon Valley College; Dr. E. E. Stauffer, formerly of the English Department of Lebanon Valley College, now pastor of a church in Lancaster; and N. C. Schlichter, formerly a professor at L. V. C.

The winner of the contest will be announced in two weeks by the Evening Report, the donor of the prize, which will also print the prize story.

The members of the Club are now planning work preliminary to the production of a book of legendary and historical stories of Pennsylvania.

Visitor—Where's the shower room?
Piela—I don't know; I've only been here a month.

Alumni! - - - Friends!

Pin a Dollar Bill to this and Return. It will entitle you to this year's subscription for LA VIE COLLEGIENNE.

Name

Address

Address the Business Manager

Lebanon Valley College

Delphian-Philo Joint Session

Clever Program Rendered In Philo Hall

Friday evening, December 4, Philo Hall was the scene of a jolly crowd of students who were eagerly gathered there to hear the program "The News Stand" given by Philos and Delphians. Delphian was indeed pleased to meet in this first joint session of the year with this one of her brother societies. A clever program was enjoyed after which every one most willingly took part in making the social hour a delightful one. That we all love to read is shown by the fact that a Reader's Club was organized at L. V. this year. So this pleasure in books and magazines made "The News Stand" a real success. Some of the names of our musical as well as literary magazines were most cleverly used in disguising the reality of the different numbers. The program follows:

Musical America.....Paul Moser and Reissinger

The Bookman.....Leroy Fegley
The Etude.....Beatrice Slessor
The Review of Reviews

Directed by Betty Stauffer
The Oriole.....Pearl Lindemuth
La Vie Collegienne.....Paul Moser and Francis Long

College Humor (sketch)
Directed by Mary McLanahan and Richard Beard

DR. CHERRY WILL SPEAK TO STUDENT BODY

The first of a series of addresses to be delivered by prominent speakers at different times during the collegiate year will be given by Rev. C. Waldo Cherry, D. D., Minister of the Pine St., Presbyterian church of Harrisburg, on Thursday evening, Dec. 10th in the college chapel. He will speak on his recent trip abroad. Dr. Cherry comes to us from the largest Presbyterian church of our Capital City, and we feel certain, will have a real treat in store for all who come to hear him.

On Friday evening, Dec. 11th Mr. Nevin Sayre of New York City, will address the Y. M. C. A. in the college chapel on the subject "The World Court." This is a subject that is being discussed every where and since our Country at present is deciding whether or not to enter the Court, the students of the college should avail themselves of the opportunity and thus get first hand information on this vital issue.

FOOTBALL MEN MAKE MERRY AT ANNUAL BANQUET

(Continued From Page 1)
Butterwick, Dr. H. Bennett, Prof. Dotter, Dr. Marshall, Daniel Walter, Edward Balsbaugh, Ben Milliard, Lester Miller, Irvin Roemig, Captain Heilman, Captain-elect Fox, Meyer, Elbert, Wheeler, Wilson, Piersol, Nitrauer, Wood, Gingrich, Starr, Pierce, Reigle, Gelbert, Metoxin, Smuck, Singley, Zerfos, Piela, Kuhn, Zenski, Lichtenberger, Snavelly, Snyder, Dohner, Kohler, Dullabahn, Lux, Walter, Troutman, Ulrich, Mouer, Clark, Kniesly, Zeiders, Welty, and Richards.

REVIEW OF THE 1925 FOOTBALL SEASON

On September 5, only nineteen men reported to Coach Mylin for preliminary football training in preparation for one of the hardest schedules the Blue and White ever attempted. Ten days later, eleven more players came in, making a squad of thirty men, which was all the squad the coach had to work with the entire season.

Captain Heilman, Piersol, Wheeler, Elberti, Fox, Pierce, Nitrauer, Reigle, Gingrich, Singley, Gelbert, Smuck, Starr, and Metoxin, all letter men from 1924, comprised the nucleus around which the team had to be built. Prospects looked real bright for a good season, but nobody could forecast the terrible deal which Jupiter Pluvius gave the team. The team was light, which meant that dry turf was especially desirable in order to make a good showing. The breaks were against the team, however, and only on three occasions was the team able to play on dry fields.

On September 26, the squad went up against the heavy Penn State team and held them to the lowest score in the history of the school, 14-0. The Nittany Lions received quite a scare, for they were unable to score until late in the final period, and then only after our boys were exhausted.

The following week the heavy Dickinson eleven was met, on a mud-covered field, and held to a 6-6 tie. Next in order the team journeyed to Washington and played one of the best Georgetown teams that the school ever produced. Here the team received its only real licking of the season, 50-0. However, Georgetown defeated Lehigh and Fordham by nearly the same score, so the players need not feel badly about their defeat.

Muhlenberg was met October 17, and held to fourteen points. This game, too, was played in a sea of mud. Villanova and Temple were met in order named, and both games again were played in driving rain storms. Our light team could not open up under such conditions, but nevertheless they held their own. The games resulted in draws of 6-6 and 0-0, respectively.

The following two games were played on dry fields, and L. V. followers were given an opportunity to see the team at its best. Schuylkill was sent home on the short end of a 28-6 score, and the following Saturday Albright, our ancient rival, was completely snowed under by a 41-0 score.

Susquehanna was to have been played on Turkey Day, but they cancelled on the eve of the fray. They stated that the gridiron was covered with snow, and that it was impossible to play upon it.

Considering this schedule and the weather conditions, the season was one of the best ever enjoyed by L. V. Surely, had the field been dry several of the tie games probably would have been L. V. victories.

"K" YOUNG ELECTED BASKETBALL MANAGER

Following the resignation of Ruth Miller as Manager of the Girl's Basketball Team, a meeting for Varsity girls was held and Kathryn Young, formerly assistant manager, was nominated and elected manager.

The schedule for the 1925-26 season is not completed as yet but it is rumored that strong girls' teams will be pitted against our Varsity Six. Practice will in all probability begin the second week of December.

NOTICE

If you are one of those who have paid the subscription price of One Dollar for this year's La Vie Collegienne, consider the receipt of the paper as proof that you are on our subscription list.

LEBANON VALLEY COLLEGE FOOT BALL SQUAD 1925
TOP ROW—From Left to Right: Mylin (Coach), Meyer, Elberti, Wheeler, Wilson, Ulrich (Manager).
MIDDLE ROW: Piersol, Nitrauer, Wood, Gingrich, Starr, Fox.
BOTTOM ROW: Pierce, Reigle, Gelbert, Heilman (Captain), Metoxin, Smuck, Singley.

Steelton Boy Elected Football Captain

Fox Honored By His Team Mates

Harold "Zorky" Fox started his high school career at Highspire and then went to Steelton High and played three years on the varsity football team, as their star tackler. He graduated from Steelton High in 1923.

"Zorky" then decided to come to L. V. C. and it was not long before he had landed a permanent berth on the varsity squad, playing right tackle.

He has played three years at the tackle position and is one of the best offensive as well as defensive men who has ever played on a Blue and White eleven. "Zorky" is a sure tackler and when he gets that pair of hands on his opponent he is destined to hit the earth.

Under the leadership of this fellow, the football team has a man who knows the game thoroughly and under his captaincy we are expecting great things of our team next year.

FRESHMAN BANQUET HELD AT HARRISBURG

The long suffering Freshmen again evaded the merciless Sophs and held their banquet Monday evening, November 30, at Rose's Grill, at Harrisburg. The custom has been for the annual Freshman banquet to be held immediately after the Christmas holidays, but being naturally original this class decided that there is no time like the present. Maynard Wilson, president of the class, gave the opening address and introduced the toastmaster, Professor Ritchie. Impromptu speeches were made by Ruth Light, Vice-President of the class, Miles Kichner, and Emma Shaeffer, Leah Harpel, another talented member of the class, entertained with several vocal solos. The closing address was given by Dr. G. D. Gossard. Mrs. Gossard and Mrs. Ritchie were also guests at the affair.

"How stunning," remarked the cave woman as her boy friend wooed her with a club.

BASKETBALL OUTLOOK

Stiff Schedule Arranged

The present outlook holds forth promises of one of the strongest quintets that has ever represented the Blue and White in the cage. In the five varsity men, Metoxin, Richards, Heilman, Wheeler and Gelbert of last year's team, the coach has a splendid nucleus around which to build a strong five. In addition to these old men there are many other promising candidates who will try to gain a place on the varsity team. Some of the most promising of these are Piersol, Elberti, Smith, Snively, Brubaker, Knisley, Singley, Rank, Lux, Koch, Pugh, Nitrauer, Starr, Herr and Snyder. They are Zerkos, a six-footer from Ephrata High, and Piela, a stocky lady hailing from Garfield High, New Jersey.

A strong schedule has been arranged by Manager Williard. There will be two games with our old rival, Albright, February 11 and March 5. Both of these games will be played at Lebanon. Several trips have also been arranged, one of these being a three days' trip, during which time our team will line up against Georgetown, Western Maryland, and Baltimore.

1926 FOOTBALL SCHEDULE

Graduate Manager Walters announced the football schedule for the 1926 season at the football team's annual banquet held Wednesday evening, December 2, at Chef's Place. The schedule calls for nine games, two of which at this date are still pending. All the teams opposed by our eleven this year appear on the schedule for next year with the exception of Dickinson and Susquehanna. However, there is a possibility of playing Dickinson again next fall.

The schedule to date:

Sept. 25.....	Pending
Oct. 2.....	Penn State
Oct. 9.....	Temple
Oct. 16.....	Muhlenberg
Oct. 23.....	Villanova
Oct. 30.....	Georgetown
Nov. 6.....	Pending
Nov. 13.....	Schuylkill
Nov. 20.....	Albright

Much New Fiction Added To College Library

Among the improvements of which Lebanon Valley may boast are the many new books which have been added to the library of particular interest to those who feel that books should help one to while away an idle hour we add the following list of fiction, all of which came in last week and, having been duly catalogued and pocketed, are now ready for circulation:

Bacheller	Eben Holden
Bacheller	In the Days of Poor Richard
Bacheller	The Light in the Clearing
Burnett	The Shuttle
Cather	One of Ours
Deland	Around Old Chester
Galsworthy	In Chancery
Galsworthy	The Man of Property
Galsworthy	To Let
Grayson	Adventures in Friendship
Grahame	The Golden Age
Harris	My Son
Hichens	The Garden of Allah
Lewis	Babitt
Lewis	Main Street
King	The Empty Sack
McKenna	Midas and Son
Mackenzie	The Seven Ages of Woman
Murfree	The Prophet of the Great Smoky Mountains
Phillipotts	The Joy of Youth
Porter	Roads of Destiny
Porter	Strictly Business
Porter	Whirligigs
Quick	Vandermark's Folly
Quick	The Hawkeye
Stuart	Napoleon Jackson
Tarkington	The Conquest of Canaan
Walpole	The Cathedral
Walpole	The Duchess of Wrex
Webster	Daddy-Long-Legs
Wells	The Secret Places of the Heart
Wharton	The Valley of Decision
White	A Certain Rich Man
Young	The Crescent Moon
Zangwill	Children of the Ghetto

In Chemistry Lab.

Prof. Bender: What is water?
Freshman: Water is a tasteless, colorless, odorless liquid that turns black when you put your hands in it.

Kampus Kraks

Definition of a Co-ed.

A co-ed is a person,
Who says she has to study when she means she has a steady,

Who claims she likes Art when she really loves him,

Who says she is fond of a painting when she really is fond of painting.

Who has lots of scents, looks like she has lots of cents, but really has no sense,

Who isn't so fond of love as she is of its participle,

Who often thinks she looks pretty when she really looks pretty fast,

Who thinks Little Red Riding Hood is Robin Hood's wife,

Who thinks the fourth month of the year is named April because the first day of that month is April Fool's Day,

Who rushes in where angels fear to tread.

* * *

Waiter: And how did you find the beef, sir?

Zemsky: Oh! I moved a potato and there it was.

* * *

Luckens—There's a man in the moon.

Bez—How do you know?

Luckens—Why a sailor told me.

Bez—Well, how does he know?

Luckens—He went to sea.

Bez?—

* * *

Keim—Will you serve the apple-sauce, Singley?

Singley—Certainly, but what shall I serve it in?

Keim—Why, in the apple-saucer, of course.

* * *

Visitor—What is that grating noise, Professor Reynolds?

Prof.—Oh, that is just the students filing in.

* * *

Pierce—Have you ever let any other man kiss you?

Mac—No, only a few college boys.

* * *

"Mim" Hershey—That's a dirty book.

Ruth Light—Let me at it.

"Mim"—Wait till I dust it off.

* * *

"A woman is at the bottom of everything" moaned the farmer, as he pulled his wife out of the well.

* * *

Most things are boring to a book-worm.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY TO HOLD CHRISTMAS TEA AT NORTH HALL

(Continued From Page 1)

duced by the co-eds of the school, and including the following numbers: Piano Solo—Impromptu in A Flat

Shubert.....Grace Daniels

Robin Hood Duet.....Sara Wieder, Nelda Spatz

Clog Dance.....Marion Corle, Esther Shenk

Piano Solo—Impromptu in C Sharp Minor Reinhold Violet Krone

A Christmas Reading

Miss Queenie Bilbo

Negro Spirituals.....Sara Wieder, Permella Rose, Eleanor Snoke, Marion Corle.

—o—

LEBANON VALLEY'S CHRISTMAS PAGEANT

(Continued From Page 1)

Dorcas Bortz, Marian Corle, Helen Longenecker, Sara Wieder, Bee Burrier, Nelda Spatz, Janet Miller, Hil-liard Smuck, Joseph Bruno, Floyd Lichtenberger, Charles Runk, Mervie Welty, Henry Aungst, Russel Oyer, and Edmund Horner.